DevPer Hospital Appointment

A Doctor Appointment Booking System used for patient appointments with available doctors in the hospital. This system also provides detailed information about the hospital and includes authentication for patients, doctors, and the admin. Doctors must be approved by the admin before logging in to the website. The backend is powered by MongoDB.

Online Learning Platform

A full-stack website offering free courses with modules that include videos, PDFs, quizzes, and descriptions. Only the admin can manage courses. Built with React, Node.js, Express, MongoDB, and styled using Tailwind CSS.
